Legal Education Associate

Farm Commons (Duluth, MN)

Position Type: Full-time

Geographic Preference: Midwest (KY, WV, OH, IN, MI, IL, MO, IA, MN, WI)

Job Location(s): Duluth, Minnesota (United States)

Description:

Apply for our Legal Education Associate position!
Please consider applying to become our newest staff member this fall.

Farm Commons is eager to welcome a Legal Education Associate to our team! Farm Commons is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that empowers farmers and ranchers to create solutions to their business law needs, within a community of support. Our highly innovative team members wake up each day ready to redefine how sustainable farm businesses manage their legal obligations. We are proud of our sought-after expertise, excellent resources, strong reputation, and authentic success in reducing legal risk for sustainable farmers nationwide. We are ready to add a Legal Education Associate to help us create useful new materials for producers nationwide.

Please consider joining us in this powerful opportunity to make a tangible difference in the lives of farmers and ranchers nationwide. Working together, we can create incredibly useful educational materials, templates, resources, and workshops that help agricultural producers manage their legal risks.

We are looking for a person who can translate legal logistics into straightforward action points and can identify the key resources an entrepreneur will need to implement that action step. A successful Legal Education Associate will be able to successfully handle all aspects of resource production, including conceptual design, drafting, and editing, all in collaboration with colleagues, advisors, and farmers/ranchers themselves.

We are looking for a person with keen insight into what it means to empower people with legal tools. Fundamentally, we are looking for an educator. That being said, a successful candidate will likely have a J.D. degree and may have practiced law as necessary to gain skills in legal research and analysis which are foundational to the educational process. But, there are other ways for successful candidates to develop legal knowledge and insight, and we are eager to hear from applicants with a wide range of relevant experiences.

To assist candidates in assessing if this opportunity is right for their career path, we have assembled the following bullet points.

If successful, the Legal Education Associate will achieve the following:

- Demonstration of keen insight into how to enable sound business decision-making; demonstrated ability to guide entrepreneurs through business decision-making;
- Excellent written and oral communication skills, including the ability to clearly present complex content through many forms of media (written, video recording, etc.) and in person;
- A Juris Doctor degree or admission to practice law in any state in the United States is preferred however a paralegal degree or other sufficient experience in legal research and writing will also be considered;
- Production of legal research, analysis, and writing, including maintenance of clear, verifiable documentation;

Experience writing straightforward legal education materials for non-attorney audiences;
Experience or educational background in agriculture, farming, food systems and/or business sustainability;
Proven ability to take initiative in developing programs that are goal-focused and results-oriented with limited oversight;
Ability to see past "what is" and towards "what could be";
Candidates with Spanish language fluency will receive priority consideration, but it is not a requirement. The Legal Education Associate requires communication with colleagues, partners, and members of the community in English.

To achieve the above goals, the Legal Education Associate will engage in the following work:

Work within a team to identify practical, action-oriented, feasible steps that enable farmers and ranchers (as well as their professional support teams) to reduce legal risk and leverage legal opportunity.
Identify and create materials that support the implementation of the above-identified action steps (such as models, checklists, forms, and logs).
Design and conduct processes for gathering stakeholder input into materials/deliverables, including gathering input from partners, and farmer/rancher participants. Incorporate feedback into final resources.
Assist in production of resources, to include design, editing, and website publication.
Conduct legal research and analysis as necessary to develop needed resources, in coordination with our Staff Attorney and with our volunteer program manager.
Get resources into the hands of farmers, ranchers, and their support professionals nationwide by coordinating with our Communications Manager and Farmer Development Manager about curricular integration and distribution.
Assist the Executive and Associate Directors with project reporting, documentation, evaluation

We believe possession of the following will position the successful candidate for success as our Legal Education Associate:

Demonstration of keen insight into how to enable sound business decision-making; demonstrated ability to guide entrepreneurs through business decision-making
Excellent written and oral communication skills, including the ability to clearly present complex content through many forms of media (written, video recording, etc.) and in person
A Juris Doctor degree or admission to practice law in any state in the United States is preferred however a paralegal degree or other sufficient experience in legal research and writing will receive consideration
Production of legal research, analysis, and writing, including maintenance of clear, verifiable documentation
Experience writing straightforward legal education materials for non-attorney audiences
Experience or educational background in agriculture, farming, food systems and/or business sustainability
Proven ability to take initiative in developing programs that are goal-focused and results-oriented with limited oversight
Ability to see past what is and towards what could be
Candidates with Spanish language fluency will receive priority consideration, but it is not a requirement. The Legal Education Associate requires communication with colleagues, partners, and members of the community in English.

Workplace Hours and Facilities

The successful candidate must have consistent and high-speed access to the internet at their work location. The successful candidate may work from any location that permits the successful achievement of the position objectives to include regular appearances on camera and recording audio visual material without distraction. Availability during standard business hours within a time zone of the continental United States is required. That being said, successful candidates are not required to be available for every business hour within their time zone; work schedules that include evening/weekend work are allowed, subject to approval.

Workplace Culture

Successful candidates must be able to thrive in a very small organization that is entirely remote. This means there is often little concrete direction provided aside from a clear goal and suggested avenues to meet it. Each team member needs to operate with little oversight while initiating coordination and collaboration, without hesitation. We cultivate an emotionally intelligent environment where colleagues are supported in understanding and conveying their needs.

Flexibility is an essential component of working in a small and highly innovative organization. Farm Commons does things most legally trained folks have never imagined before. We, as a team, manifest the unimaginable. Although it may not look like it at first, this is a highly creative position. As is common in creative and innovative ventures, things rarely go as planned. We depend on each team member being able to see the big picture, communicate about progress towards it, express needs and issues, and adapt quickly as visions evolve into reality. Our work is a journey to a destination that takes shape only as we move towards it. This type of workplace doesn't necessarily work for many folks accustomed to a traditional legal environment.

The Legal Education Associate receives the following regarding salary, benefits, and compensation:

An annual salary of $57,000 (standard 40 hour workweek). This position is exempt from overtime;
10 vacation days, 5 sick days, and 8 paid holidays per year, plus a week off between Christmas and New Years. Full time employees may also take paid time off in the amount of 4 hours per week between Memorial Day and Labor Day;
Health insurance reimbursement in the amount of $250 per month;
SIMPLE IRA eligibility with employer match at 3%;
Stipend for technology upgrades and office furniture;
Reimbursement of $40 per month for internet services.

Commitment to Equality

We strive to create an equitable hiring process that allows strong candidates to shine. Job Location(s): San Diego, California United States

Job Description:

The San Diego County District Attorney's Office offers a Graduate Law Clerk Program to recent law school graduates who are awaiting California Bar Examination results. Graduate Law Clerks are assigned to all divisions of the office within San Diego County. Under the supervision of Deputy District Attorneys, they will conduct legal research, respond to defense motions and litigate those motions in court, conduct preliminary hearings, handle a vast array of court hearings, and assist with jury trials. A Graduate Law Clerk will focus on every aspect of case preparation and litigation in order to build the skills necessary to become a smart, ethical advocate for the People.

The Graduate Law Clerk Program offers full-time paid positions, and Graduate Law Clerks will be expected to work 40 hours a week. The position begins each August (with occasional March positions for mid-year graduates), soon after taking the California Bar Examination. Graduate Law Clerks are employed on a temporary basis for a period of no longer than one year.

Our hiring process is competitive. We seek to hire dedicated and passionate law school students who aspire to pursue a career in criminal prosecution. Employment as a Graduate Law Clerk is NOT a guarantee or promise of employment as a Deputy District Attorney in the future. However, we hope our Graduate Law Clerks will eventually apply for a position as a Deputy District Attorney during open recruitment for that position.

Applicants must have graduated from an accredited law school within the last twelve (12) months AND must have applied for, and be eligible to take the next California State Bar Examination.

To apply for the Graduate Law Clerk position, please submit a (1) Cover Letter, (2) Resume, (3) Writing Sample (not to exceed five typed pages), (4) Two Letters of Recommendation, (5) Official or Unofficial Transcript, and (6) only if you have previously worked for the San Diego County District Attorney's Office, the names of any supervisors to whom you have been previously assigned or other DDAs from our Office who can speak to your work. Please submit the materials as a SINGLE PDF through email to recruiting@sdcca.org. The applications are due on October 15, 2021 by 9:00 AM (PST).

NIH Bioethics Fellowship

National Institutes of Health, Department of Bioethics

Job Type: Full-time, Fellowship

Job Location(s): Bethesda, Maryland United States

Job Description:

The NIH Department of Bioethics welcomes applications for fully funded two-year postdoctoral and postbaccalaureate research fellowships. Fellows are central to the activities and intellectual life of our interdisciplinary department. They study ethical issues related to biomedical research, clinical practice, genetics, biotechnology, public health, health policy, and more. They conduct mentored theoretical and empirical research on a range of bioethical fields. For a typical fellow, this research yields multiple first-authored publications in premier academic journals. In addition to research and writing, fellows participate in weekly bioethics seminars, case conferences, ethics consultations, and IRB deliberations, and have access to multiple educational opportunities at NIH. We do not require or expect any bioethics experience and encourage anyone with a strong interest to apply.

Fellowships begin in September 2021. Stipends are determined by NIH Intramural Research Training Award (IRTA) guidelines.

Our post-baccalaureate fellowships are ideal for students interested in eventually pursuing an MD, JD, PhD, or other graduate degree. Applicants for the post-baccalaureate fellowship must have an undergraduate or master's degree completed no more than 3 years prior to the start date of the fellowship for a bachelor's and no more than 6 months prior for a master's. Only U.S. citizens or U.S. Legal Permanent Residents are eligible for post-baccalaureate fellowships.

Applicants for the post-doctoral fellowship must have completed a doctoral degree no more than 5 years prior to the start date of the fellowship. Although applicants are most often from philosophy, law, and medicine, applications are welcome from other disciplines. U.S. and non-U.S. citizens are eligible for post-doctoral fellowships.

Applications should include: a resume/CV, undergraduate and graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, a statement of interest, and one or two writing samples. Writing samples should total no more than 30 double-spaced pages and should demonstrate the applicant's analytical or critical thinking ability. They need not be on a bioethics topic and there is no preference for published work. Most successful applicants submit samples that defend a position or analyze an argument. Single-authored writing samples are preferred. If a co-authored sample is submitted, the applicant should ideally be the first author and should explain their role in writing the paper. The statement of interest should be up to 1000 words and explain your interest in bioethics, how the fellowship fits into your career goals (including how it would be valuable to you), and what potential bioethics topics you would like to investigate. You may also discuss any aspects of your background or experience that would contribute to diversity in the department or the field of bioethics. We are dedicated to building a vibrant, diverse, and inclusive community in our department.

Pacific Legal Foundation Fellowships

Pacific Legal Foundation (Sacramento, CA)

Position Type: Fellowship

Practice Area(s): Appellate, Litigation

Description:

Pacific Legal Foundation Fellowships

You: A law-school graduate, a confident and entrepreneurial freedom fighter with a passion for battling onerous government. You're looking for an opportunity to work with the best liberty lawyers in the nation, immerse yourself in the nuts-and-bolts of public-interest law, and study the legal and philosophical principles of the liberty movement.

Them: Bureaucrats, city councils, mayors, governors, and federal agencies stripping Americans of their rights every day. There's a lot of government overreach out there, and it's backed by seemingly endless resources. But fortunately, like all lumbering giants, abusive government is most vulnerable when countered by individuals who act strategically and nimbly, take calculated risks, have each other's backs, and are confident in and passionate for the cause—the very sort of swashbucklers we employ in spades here at PLF.

Us: We fight back. Pacific Legal Foundation is the nation's first and most successful public interest law firm dedicated to vindicating individual liberty. PLF has an unmatched record in the United States Supreme Court, with 14 victories out of 16 cases litigated at the Court—so far. We have more than a hundred active cases across the nation, and a growing number of legislative and administrative policy wins.

We are a next-generation public interest law firm. What does "next generation" mean for a legal nonprofit? It means we aren't interested in doing the same thing as everyone else. We aspire to be the best player in a constantly changing game.

Here's what you get to do in this role:

You will be a "PLF Fellow," a one-year position for law-school graduates. You will be added to litigation teams in on-going cases, receive hands-on legal-research and legal-writing training, and study the Classical Liberal principles that guide our work. You will also be encouraged and expected to take on additional challenges, including case development and communications efforts.

You will work on teams with junior and senior attorneys, adding your skills and perspective in order to elevate our team's ability to win important victories for liberty. You will have the latitude to think big and the resources to execute. You will be at the forefront of shaping the law for all Americans.

In a nutshell, we're seeking a young lawyer who's passionate about individual liberty, property rights, and administrative law, someone who is confident and magnanimous, and someone who is a bold and relentless freedom fighter.

Getting down to brass tacks, your specific job duties will likely include:

Helping us win public-interest cases! Immersing yourself in the details of assigned cases, working closely with PLF's litigators, and finding creative ways to promote liberty.

Advocating for individual liberty, property rights, and the separation of powers both philosophically and practically. Speaking with organizations, trade groups, academia, and media to advance PLF's strategic environmental law goals.

Writing persuasive pieces for both scholarly and lay audiences. Drafting op-eds, journal articles, and blog posts.

Working with other attorneys as you battle and set the agenda for PLF's public-interest practice.

This role is ideal for someone who is passionate about liberty and wants to get a crash-course in public-interest law and one with:

- a demonstrated interest in property rights, environmental law, and separation of powers;
- outstanding interpersonal communications skills; and
- a knowledge of and passion for the ideas of freedom and individual liberty.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Pacific Legal Foundation identifies and litigates important legal issues to set landmark precedents that will benefit Americans nationwide. Using strategic and principled litigation, communications, and research, we battle for freedom in the nation’s courts and the court of public opinion.

As a national nonprofit organization, PLF has brick-and-mortar offices in Sacramento, CA; Arlington, VA; and Palm Beach Gardens, FL, though approximately half of the staff work from home across the country.

This is a one-year, full-time position. PLF is committed to recruiting and retaining the highest-quality talent available nationwide, and we offer a competitive compensation package. We have a flexible, collaborative, positive, and collegial work environment. We take pride in investing in your future and encourage internal advancement. PLF is the place for someone principled, tenacious, and determined to succeed in positively shaping the future of our country and restoring real limits on government power. Join us.

TO APPLY:

If you think you might be a good fit, submit the following application materials in one PDF at the link below.

Your resume, including your experience in the liberty movement and relevant professional experience.

A cover letter explaining why PLF is the place for you, why you want to fight for liberty, and what distinguishes you from typical applicants.
