RESEARCH AND TEACHING EXPERTISE

International Law (including International Economic/Trade Law and International Business Transactions), Contracts, Sales (UCC Article 2), Business Organizations (Business Associations), Corporations, Law and Development, Transactional Skills (including Contract Drafting and Negotiations), Professional Responsibility, International Human Rights

SCHOLARSHIP SUMMARY

I examine the role of law, legal frameworks, and institutions in international trade, industrial promotion, economic development, and corporate governance. I have developed analytical frameworks such as the General Theory of Law and Development and analyzed the impact of law and legal institutions in the process of economic development, industrial promotion, property law reform, and public health management (e.g., management of COVID-19). Additionally, I have published scholarly works on racial and regional economic disparities, the interface between national security and industrial policies, wartime human rights violations, general mechanisms of economic development, and sustainable peace in Northeast Asia.
