2021 FDIC Honors Attorney

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Arlington, VA)

Job Type: Full-time

Job Location(s):

Washington, District of Columbia United States

Arlington, Virginia United States

Job Description:

The Honors Attorney Program

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's Honors Attorney Program is a highly competitive 2-year entry-level program. It is a unique opportunity for outstanding law school graduates and recent law clerks to learn and work in support of the FDIC's mission of maintaining stability and public confidence in the nation's financial system. In addition, as innovative and transformative technologies are rapidly altering the ways banks serve their customers, participants will be exposed to valuable and stimulating areas of law atypical to most government practice.

Honors Attorneys will receive an in-depth understanding of the FDIC's role in our financial system and an opportunity for public service. Honors Attorneys are assigned to a wide variety of projects throughout the Legal Division that provide extensive and diverse legal experience in an inclusive work environment, which recognizes and appreciates all employees' perspectives and talents. Additionally, there is a substantial amount of individual responsibility assigned to them throughout the program. The FDIC is committed to providing personal and professional growth opportunities. Honors Attorneys are provided with work assignments designed to expose them to different areas of FDIC legal practice. Honors Attorneys tackle important and interesting matters, including:

- Participating in high profile rulemakings implementing the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act and the Economic Growth, Regulatory Relief, and Consumer Protection Act;
- Preparing for and attending meetings with international banking regulators; and
- Working with attorneys on consumer and risk enforcement matters, including taking sworn statements in preparation for administrative hearings.

Why Join the FDIC?

The FDIC is a cornerstone federal agency upholding, protecting, and maintaining stability and public confidence in the nation's financial system. As an independent federal agency that insures deposits, the FDIC is charged with examining and supervising financial institutions for safety, soundness and consumer protection; making large and complex financial institutions resolvable; and managing receiverships. Created in 1933 in response to the thousands of bank failures that occurred in the 1920s and early 1930s, the FDIC was established to maintain public confidence in the nation's financial system and to provide a Federal guarantee of customers' deposits, within certain limits, in the event of a financial institution failure.

Since the start of FDIC insurance on January 1, 1934, not one depositor has lost a cent of insured funds as a result of a failure of a financial institution. The FDIC sign - posted in insured financial institutions across the country - is a symbol of confidence.

During the recent financial crises, the FDIC played a critical leadership role in stemming the global crisis, including an unprecedented use of emergency authorities. FDIC attorneys made critical contributions to the FDIC's actions in containing the systemic risk within the banking industry and restoring financial stability after the failure of almost 500 insured depository institutions. Further, FDIC attorneys have been leaders in creating regulatory changes in the wake of the Great Recession.

For many years, the FDIC has routinely been ranked as one the Best Places to Work in the Federal Government. We provide highly competitive pay and comprehensive benefits that include health, life, and dental insurance, paid vacation time, paid parental leave, flexible spending and 401(k) savings accounts, and enrollment in the Federal Employee Retirement System. Furthermore, employment with the FDIC may qualify you for the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) Program. The FDIC remains committed to helping employees maintain a work/life balance through reasonable work hours and flexible schedules.

Legal Practice at the FDIC

The practice of law at the FDIC reflects the broad nature of the FDIC's work as well as its unique statutory powers. Unlike many federal agencies, the FDIC has independent litigating authority and our attorneys are able to practice before all courts as well as administrative tribunals. FDIC attorneys develop case strategy, write briefs, and appear in court for arguments on behalf of the Corporation. FDIC attorneys maintain active practices in the following areas:

Bank regulatory matters

- Developing, drafting, and providing legal opinions on legislation, regulations, and policy statements relating to insured depository institutions;
- Providing advice on deposit insurance coverage, and assessments of insured depository institutions, and consumer protection laws;
- Providing advice to foreign countries that are developing deposit insurance programs;
- Working closely with examiners to ensure compliance with banking and consumer protection laws and regulations, while maintaining the continued safety and soundness of insured depository institutions;
- Providing advice to bank innovators and fintechs in deploying new technology and innovative solutions;
- Working on the development of new "reg-tech" strategies to meet the supervisory challenges of evolving technological advances in payment systems, digitalization, machine learning and artificial intelligence; and

Preparing and litigating enforcement cases before administrative law judges and in federal courts.

Litigation

- Litigating multimillion dollar actions against financial institution directors, officers, attorneys, accountants and other parties when negligence and/or malpractice contributed to the failure of insured depository institutions;
- Managing large, complex commercial litigation arising out of the business lines of failed institutions, as well as civil and other claims owned by receiverships;
- Coordinating the FDIC's anti-fraud efforts with the Department of Justice, prosecutors, and FBI agents across the country in the investigation and prosecution of criminal conduct in insured depository institutions; and
- Defending the FDIC against challenges to its statutory authority and appeals from its administrative determinations.

Complex Financial Institutions

- Providing legal advice on the FDIC's responsibilities under the Dodd Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act) involving complex financial institutions;
- Supporting the FDIC's execution of policies and program initiatives concerning the development of resolution strategies and resolution planning for complex financial institutions;
- Reviewing and assessing resolution plans developed by complex financial institutions under the Dodd-Frank Act; and
- Participating in the FDIC's international outreach and coordination efforts with regard to the resolution of complex financial institutions.

Resolution and Receivership Matters

- Developing resolution, receivership, and marketing strategies for failed banks involving hundreds of millions of dollars in deposits and loans;
- Providing legal advice on the FDIC's responsibilities under the Dodd Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act) involving complex financial institutions;

- Participating in the FDIC's international outreach and coordination efforts with regard to the resolution of complex financial institutions.

Corporate practice

- Providing legal opinions on a wide range of topics, including statutory powers of the FDIC, the role of the FDIC as a federal agency, and corporate governance;

- Handling all labor and employment issues, including administrative hearings on employee-related matters and negotiations with the bargaining unit representative;
- Handling FDIC contracting, including contracting for the services of outside counsel; and
- Addressing Legal Division information technology needs and issues.

The Judiciary's law clerkship program is intended for recent law school graduates, which is defined as graduating within the last four years. Selected candidates will be required to provide an official, final law school transcript, not a photocopy, which includes the date of graduation from their law school at the time of hire. Excellent writing and analytical skills are essential.

It is helpful to have completed a course in mediation prior to the start of the clerkship. Under Court Rule, all trial court law clerks who will serve as mediators must first complete the Judiciary sponsored 12-hour mediation training or its equivalent. Applicants selected for clerkships can request a waiver from attending the Judiciary's training program at the start of the court term by providing documentation that confirms that they successfully completed an approved alternative dispute resolution course.

Supplemental Information

Note: Law clerks may hold outside employment with prior approval as provided in the Code of Conduct for Judiciary Employees. The Code is available online at https://www.njcourts.gov/public/assets/access/codeofconduct_hr.pdf?c=O3g

Driver's License: Appointee will be required to possess a driver's license valid in New Jersey only if the operation of a vehicle is necessary to perform essential duties of the position.

Authorization to Work: US citizenship is not required. Selected candidate must be authorized to work in the US according to Department of Homeland Security, US Citizenship and Immigration Services regulations.

Special Note: Individuals selected for clerkships must agree to a thorough background check, which will include fingerprinting. All data received will be kept in the strictest confidence except to inform the individual of the findings and what action will be taken as a result of this information.

Residency Law: Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14-7 (L. 2011, Chapter 70), also known as the "New Jersey First Act," all persons newly hired by the Judiciary must establish, and then maintain, principal residence in the State of New Jersey. Law clerks are not subject to the residency law during their 53 week term. Additionally, law clerks who serve a second clerkship in a higher court are exempt from the residency requirement. Clerks who anticipate moving into another state position immediately following their clerkship(s) must be mindful that, upon conclusion of their clerkship term, they will need to be New Jersey residents.

Approximately 480 clerkships are available. Of those, a limited number of clerkships exist for the Supreme Court, Superior Court Appellate Division, Superior Court Assignment Judges, Superior Court Chancery Division in general equity court, and in the Tax Court. Applicants interested in those positions should apply early during the hiring process. Most openings exist in the Superior Court Law Division in civil and criminal court, and Superior Court Chancery Division in family court. For additional information see the Judiciary's website at <https://www.njcourts.gov/public/lawclerks.html>. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities and other protected class members are encouraged to apply.

The NJ Judiciary requires all applicants to complete the application process fully and as instructed. All applicants must complete the work experience and education sections and attach any required documents. Applications must describe all relevant work experience in detail, beginning with your current or most recent job, including military service (indicate rank), internships and job-related volunteer work, if applicable. Use a separate section to describe each position or gap in employment. Applicants who do not include or enter all relevant education history or work experience or who indicate "see resume" or enter their initials to verify that they do not possess any education history or work experience in lieu of a completed application will not be considered, unless you do not possess any education history or work experience. If you have not fully completed the application or followed the application instructions, return to your application and update any incomplete or missing information before submitting. Only applicants that follow the application instructions and submit completed applications will be considered.
